

The Fur Trade

La traite des fourrures

By/Par:

Livia & Fiona

01 When it happened

02 Trade goods and currencies

03 Primary animals and Fur

04 Locations

05 The Roles of Women

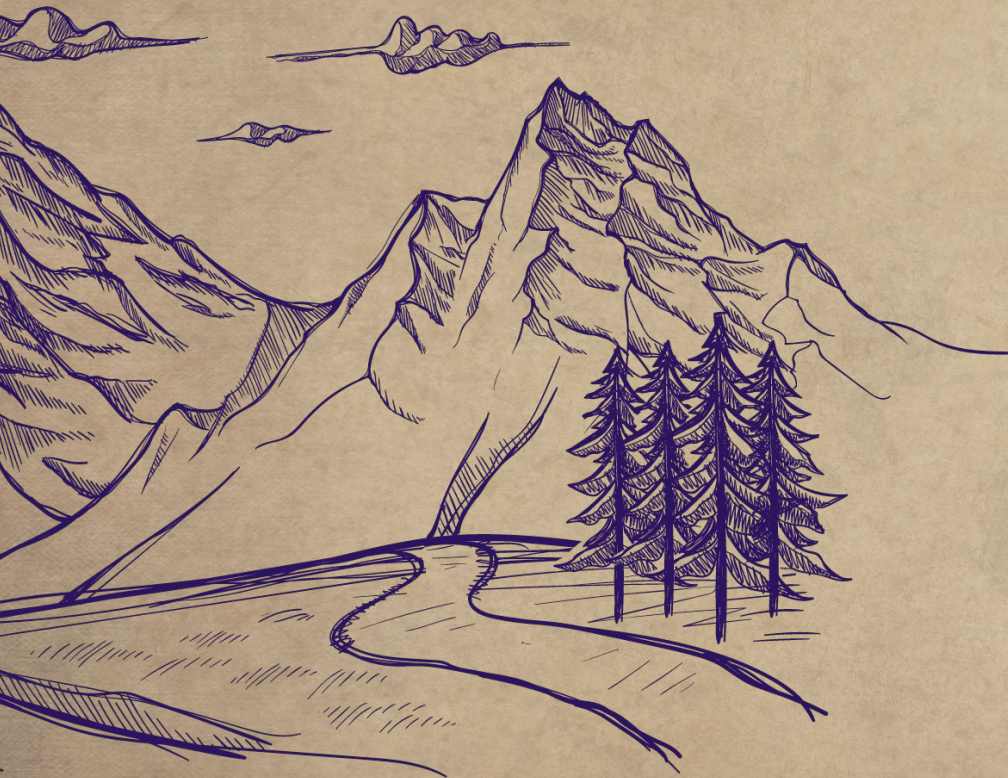

06 Fun facts

07 Resources we used

INTRODUCTION

- Quand c'était passé
- Animaux primaires et fourrures
- Échanger des biens et des devises
- Déplacements
- Faits amusants
- Les rôles des femmes

1500-1600

Early trade

1670-1870

Main phase

1850-1870

End

Les animaux primaux et leurs fourrures.

Regarder
cette vidéo!

Trade goods and currencies

Hardware, fish
hooks, knives,
glass beads, and
tokens.

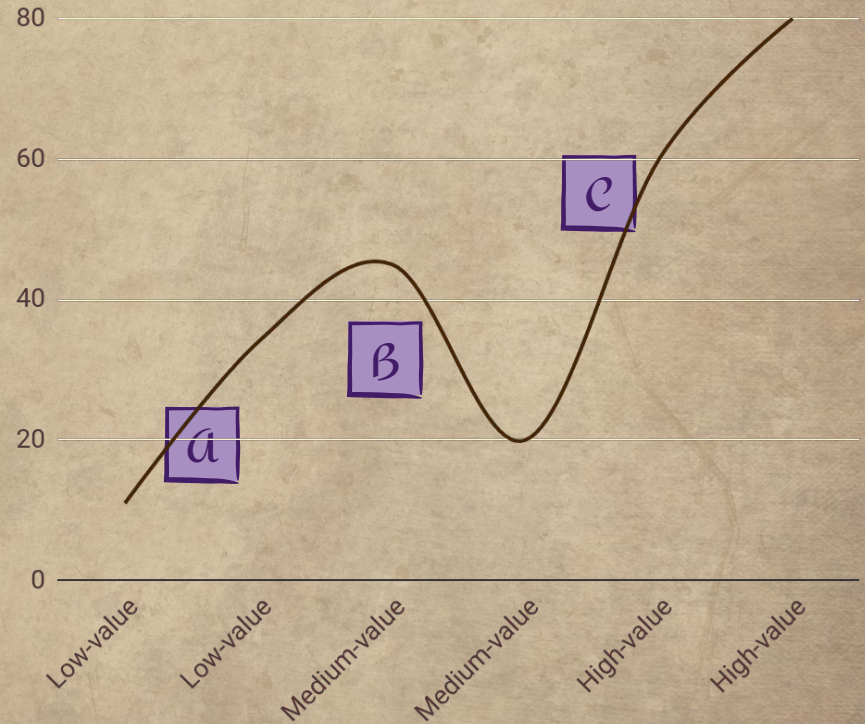

a

Blankets, guns,
and brass
kettles.

B

Animal pelts,
axes and large
knives.

c

Les Eplacements

La traite des fourrures a avoir lieu principalement au au Amérique du nord en ...

- Baie d'Hudson
- Ouest et Nord-L'Ouest(Fort Selkirk, Jasper House)
- Région des Grands lacs
(Obaadjiwan- Fort- Témiscaminge)

Role of Women in the Fur Trade

We know that men traded and trapped animals and became voyageurs or explorers.

But what did women do in the fur trade?

- Providing critical survival skills
- Labour
- Prepared animal hides
- Made clothes
- Secured food supplies
- Became nurturers

3 Fun facts !

- Most common animals for fur trade
- People started the trade because: indigenous people needed stronger weapons+survival tools
- Voyagers had to row about 160 km and 16 hours daily

Resources

For this presentation, the resources we used were:

- The Canadian Encyclopedia
 - The Canadian Encyclopedia, The Fur Trade, <https://www.thecanadianencyclopedia.ca/en>, 2025/March 31 2026
- Indigenous Peoples Atlas of Canada
 - Indigenous Peoples Atlas of Canada, The Fur Trade, <https://indigenouspeoplesatlasofcanada.ca/>, January 2026/March 31 2026
- Curriculum Services Canada (CSC)
 - “Peaux de castors”, Video. Curriculum Services Canada, 2013, 4 min 55s
https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=r_Jb3BGair8

To recap,

Pour conclure,

Today we discussed:

- The Fur Trade in Canada
- When it happened
- Primary animals and their fur
- Trade goods and currency
- Locations
- Role of women
- Fun facts

Aujourd'hui, nous avons
abordé les sujets suivants :

- Le commerce des
fourrures au Canada
- Quand a-t-il eu lieu ?
- Les principaux animaux
et leurs fourrures
- Les marchandises et la monnaie utilisées pour le
commerce
- Les lieux de commerce
- Le rôle des femmes
- Les faits intéressants